Assess a potential employee in the entire Microsoft Office suite for just $50.00

We have received dozens of requests to add Computer Readiness Assessments to our long list of skills testing. We are happy to announce that we now have this service available for your organization.

We recently launched our Computer Readiness Assessments (CRA's) and could not be more pleased with the immediate results. We are able to affordably test your potential and current employees in over 133 levels of the most popular technology applications for both Windows and Mac.

Our Microsoft Office 2003 and 2007 assessments are provided in a Virtual Environment. The assessment is done within the actual application which provides a real world feel to the session. When the testing is complete you will be emailed a breakdown of the student's strengths and weaknesses, as well as, an overall score.
